Selection criteria

If the number of applicants exceeds the number of places available, a selection procedure will be necessary:

Applicants are divided into two groups:

- ‘Bildungsinländer’: Applicants without German citizenship who have obtained their higher education entrance qualification (e.g. Abitur) in Germany. Applicants with German citizenship are allocated to the group of ‘domestic students’ as well, regardless of the country of their higher education entrance qualification.
- ‘Bildungsausländer’: All non-German applicants who have obtained their higher education entrance qualification (e.g. USA: High School Diploma, Pakistan: Higher Secondary (School) Certificate, etc.) outside of Germany.

Each group is allocated 50% of the available places on the program. Applicants are ranked within their group according to the following criteria:

- Grade achieved in first degree (weighted 60%)
- Written justification of your choice of degree (weighted 40%, <https://www.wiso.uni-hamburg.de/studienbuero-sozialoekonomie/studiengaenge/ma-mibas/bewerbung-mibas.html#852123>)

The overall grade results from evaluation of both criteria. Places on the program are awarded according to the number of available places within each of these groups. Places not awarded within one group will be allocated to applicants from the other group.
