

THE ICA PRESENTS:

DOWNTON ABBEY; A DELICIOUS GLIMPSE AT EDWARDIAN ENGLAND

The clock is ticking, students are counting down the weeks to the semester break and looking forward to a well-deserved break. However, life at the IAA goes on, even when the lecture halls aren't ringing with the sound of erudite pronouncements. Consequently, this semester break will feature a new initiative from the Inter Cultural Association, the beating heart of the IAA.

We're delighted to invite you to screenings of the massively successful British TV drama, Downton Abbey, beginning on Tuesday, 07 February at 6pm in Hoersaal K, ESA 1. Felix Sprang will kick things off with a brief introduction to life and literature in Edwardian England, a literary period overshadowed by Victorian studies.

There is no admission fee, and you're welcome to bring friends who are not studying at the IAA. Be ready for a lively discussion each week once the show has finished, and each evening will certainly offer you an opportunity to catch up with friends, meet new students, and mingle with some staff members in a very relaxed atmosphere.
