Dear Harry,

Happy belated birthday, mate!

I’m sorry that I haven’t sent you a birthday card, but I have been very busy lately with the new baby my wife and I have just had. For whatever reason, I had been thinking that your birthday was this week. That is how sleep-deprived I have been! I can’t even keep dates straight! It wasn’t until today that I realised my mistake so I wrote you straight away, as I know you are still sleeping on that side of the world.

How are you doing? I hope all is well there, as usual, and that there haven’t been any unpleasant surprises with your job since we last spoke. It would be great if you can write or phone to tell me about how you are doing.

By the way, you still haven’t told me how your bar exam was. I’m sure you passed them so now you are officially a barrister. Congratulations! I was actually also thinking about taking up a new course of study so perhaps you can give me some advice, based on your experience.

It has been far too long since last we saw one another. We should get together soon to catch up. How about coming down here for an extended holiday this winter. You could stay here for a few days - or even a week - if your schedule allows, and you can meet the little one.

I hope to hear from you soon.

Best,
David

Exercise D

Written Expression - Please use the last page!

If you have had fewer than 5 years of English in school and/or university, please complete the writing task in Exercise I below.

Exercise I
You want to send a postcard to an English-speaking friend about your last holiday. Write something about at least 3 of these 6 topics.

- Describe where you went.
- Tell your friend about what you did there.
- Ask your friend about his/her last holiday.
- Plan a future trip with your friend to a similar location.
- Give some information about the history of your last holiday location.
- Talk about your experiences with the culture and/or the language at this location (e.g., misunderstandings, interesting interactions with the locals).

If you have had five or more years of English in school, please complete one of the writing assignment detailed in Exercise II below. Respond to the following prompt using an academic style of writing.

(150-250 words)

Exercise II

- Describe an experience that has forever changed your life and your outlook on life.
- Describe a topic, idea or concept you find so engaging that it makes you lose all track of time. Why does it captivate you? What or who do you turn to when you want to learn more?
- Choose an invention that you think has had the most negative impact on our world and explain why you chose that invention.
- What do you consider to be the best advice you have ever received? Who gave you that advice and did you follow that advice or not?
