

UNIVERSITÄT HAMBURG – KYOTO UNIVERSITY Symposium

Hamburg, 7/8 June 2017

Perspectives for Cooperation in the Realm of Infection Research

Wednesday 7 June 2017

Venue: Heinrich-Pette-Institut – Seminarraum 1, Martinistraße 52, 20251 Hamburg

10.30 am – 12 pm Matchmaking session

Prof. Wolfram Brune

Prof. Takashi Fujita

Prof. Adam Grundhoff

Prof. Junichiro Yasunaga

Dr. Wilhelm Ching

Prof. Takeshi Noda

Dr. César Muñoz-Fontela

Dr. Christoph Hagen

- Lunch Break -

Presentations

1.15– 2.00 pm

Innate antiviral responses

Prof. Takashi Fujita, IFLMS

Analysis of innate immune responses to SFTSV infection.

Prof. Wolfram Brune, HPI

Modulation of innate antiviral defenses by murine cytomegalovirus

Discussion

2.00 – 2.45 pm

Viral oncogenesis

Prof. Junichiro Yasunaga, IFLMS

Molecular mechanisms of oncogenesis by human T-cell leukemia virus type 1

Dr. Wilhelm Ching, HPI

Viral Transformation

Discussion

2.45 pm Coffee break

3:00 – 3.45 pm

Emerging infections

Prof. Takeshi Noda, IFLMS

Genome packaging mechanism of influenza A virus

Dr. César Muñoz-Fontela, HPI

Antigen presenting cells and T cells during Ebola virus infection

Discussion

4:30 – 5.30 pm

Guided tour of CSSB - Centre for Structural Systems Biology

Campus Bahrenfeld – Notkestraße 85, 22607 Hamburg

Dr. Christoph Hagen - CSSB

Thursday 8 June 2017

Venue: Universität Hamburg – Main Administration Building, Mittelweg 177, 20148
Hamburg

9:00 – 10:00 am

Preparation of Presentations of Matchmaking discussion

10:00 – 10:30 am

Coffee break

10:30 – 12:30 pm

Wrap up & Presentation outcomes

1:00 pm – 2:30pm

Lunch