To all students of Universität Hamburg

3 March 2020
Staff code: P/P1

Dear Student,

Universität Hamburg is striving to help prevent the spread of the coronavirus (2019-nCoV) by introducing precautionary measures. These include excluding students returning from high-risk areas from study activities for 14 days after their return (see the coronavirus FAQ on www.uni-hamburg.de/newsroom/intern/2020/0131-corona-faq.html). They are not permitted to visit the University campus, libraries, or student dining halls. This measure aims to slow the further spread of the coronavirus.

If you have had contact with someone infected with the coronavirus, contact your local health authority immediately, remain at home, and follow the health authority’s instructions. To minimize the risk of infection, do not go to a doctor’s office.

Be sure to inform your lecturers of your absence.

In the interest of all students and lecturers, it is very important that you adhere to these regulations. Your faculty will support you to ensure that you do not suffer any further disadvantages due to your absence.

Sincerely,

Univ.-Prof. Dr. Dr. h.c. Dieter Lenzen