As a University of Excellence, Universität Hamburg is one of the strongest research universities in Germany. As a flagship university in the greater Hamburg region, it nurtures innovative, cooperative contacts to partners within and outside academia. It also provides and promotes sustainable education, knowledge, and knowledge exchange locally, nationally, and internationally.

Junior professorships are aimed at researchers in the early stages of their career, within four years after completion of doctoral studies.

The Faculty of Business, Economics and Social Sciences invites applications for a commencing as soon as possible, ref. no. JP 310.

JUNIOR PROFESSORSHIP (W1) FOR SOCIOLOGY, WITH A FOCUS ON VIOLENCE AND SECURITY

RESPONSIBILITIES:

We expect the successful candidate to conduct research and to teach in the field. We also expect the candidate to have a proven record of research experience in the sociologically relevant fields of violence and security. We welcome research and teaching perspectives that include issues of gender, race, and social polarization.

In their application, applicants are expected to indicate to which of the University’s core research areas, emerging fields, or profile initiatives (https://www.uni-hamburg.de/en/forschung/forschungsprofil/forschungsschwerpunkte.html) their research can best be assigned. The candidate will further be expected to take part in the profile initiative Violence and Security.

The successful candidate is further expected to teach in English and German in the bachelor’s and master’s programs in the Department of Social Sciences and in the faculty’s graduate school.

Section 12 subsection 7 sentence 2 of the Hamburg higher education act (Hamburgisches Hochschulgesetz, HmbHG) applies.

REQUIREMENTS:

Academic qualifications and additional requirements as specified in Section 18 HmbHG.
ADDITIONAL CRITERIA:

Applicants are expected to have international research experience as well as a successful track record in acquiring external funding and carrying out externally funded projects. The University places particular emphasis on the quality of teaching and therefore requests that applicants provide details of their teaching experience and objectives.

The post holder is expected to acquire the language skills necessary to teach in German (Level C1 of the Common European Framework of Reference for Languages) within two years of commencing employment providing he or she does not have the requisite skills when starting.

Junior professors have academic autonomy in their research and teaching. To ensure synergies in research and teaching, applicants’ subject interests are expected to relate to topics in the area of criminology with a focus on security and resilience.

In accordance with Section 14 subsection 3 sentence 3 HmbHG, Universität Hamburg seeks to increase the proportion of women in teaching and research and encourages female academics to apply.

Suitable disabled candidates or applicants with equivalent status with comparable qualifications, abilities, and experience receive preference in the application process.
