As a University of Excellence, Universität Hamburg is one of the strongest research universities in Germany. As a flagship university in the greater Hamburg region, it nurtures innovative, cooperative contacts to partners within and outside academia. It also provides and promotes sustainable education, knowledge, and knowledge exchange locally, nationally, and internationally.

As a University for sustainability, we put human resources development and especially the development and advancement of our early career researchers at the fore of our strategic endeavors. By strengthening the tenure-track professorship, Universität Hamburg has introduced a specific career opportunity for early career researchers. Junior professorships are aimed at researchers in the early stages of their career, within four years after completion of doctoral studies.

Due to the success of the tenure-track program run by the Ministry for Education and Research and to strengthen the core research area Infection Research, Universität Hamburg invites applications for the following tenure-track professorship:

The Faculty of Business, Economics and Social Sciences invites applications for a

JUNIOR PROFESSORSHIP (W1) WITH TENURE TRACK LEADING TO A W2 (TENURE-TRACK PROFESSORSHIP) FOR POLITICAL SCIENCE WITH A FOCUS ON INTERNATIONAL RELATIONS AND GLOBAL HEALTH

commencing on 1 October 2020, ref. no. JP 314

RESPONSIBILITIES:

The successful candidate is expected to conduct research and teach in political science, particularly in the field of international relations and global health policy. The successful applicant should focus on global and comparative health policy in political science research. Preferably, the successful candidate should also work in the faculty’s research centers, the Hamburg Health Center for Health Economics (HCHE) and the Center for Sustainable Society Research (CSS).

Courses should be taught in German and English in the faculty’s bachelor’s and master’s programs, especially the programs in political science as well as in the faculty’s graduate school. Willingness to take part in the interdisciplinary Master of Science in Politics, Economics, Philosophy is desired.
In their application, applicants are expected to indicate to which of the University’s core research areas, emerging fields, or profile initiatives (https://www.uni-hamburg.de/en/forschung/forschungsprofil/forschungsschwerpunkte.html) their research can best be assigned. Duties include working in one or more of the core research areas, emerging fields, or profile initiatives.

The successful candidate is further expected to participate actively in the instruction of students pursuing a teaching degree in the respective discipline.

Section 12 subsection 7 sentence 2 of the Hamburg higher education act (Hamburgisches Hochschulgesetz, HmbHG) applies.

REQUIREMENTS:

Academic qualifications and additional requirements as specified in Section 18 HmbHG.

ADDITIONAL CRITERIA:

Applicants are expected to have international research experience as well as a successful track record in acquiring external funding and carrying out externally funded projects. The University places particular emphasis on the quality of teaching and therefore requests that applicants provide details of their teaching experience and objectives.

Non-German speaking post holders are expected to acquire the language skills necessary to teach in German (Level C1 of the Common European Framework of Reference for Languages) within two years of commencing employment providing they do not have the requisite skills when starting.

Junior professors have academic autonomy in their research and teaching. Applicants’ subject interests are expected to relate to topics in the area of political science to ensure synergies in research in teaching.

A tenure-track evaluation will be conducted during the second phase of the junior professorship in order to determine whether requirements for appointment to a W2 professorship have been met. Section 15 HmbHG applies. If the evaluation is positive, the candidate will be offered a tenured W2 professorship. The regulations prohibiting internal appointments also apply to this junior professorship.

In accordance with Section 14 subsection 3 sentence 3 HmbHG, Universität Hamburg seeks to increase the proportion of women in teaching and research and encourages female academics to apply.

Suitable disabled candidates or applicants with equivalent status with comparable qualifications, abilities, and experience receive preference in the application process.
